Facts about the tour:

The deep forests at the northern area of the Dellen Lake is a perfect place for picking berries. The soil is fertile because of the meteorites collision with the Earth for about 90 million years ago. And the surrounding mountains with small lakes and streams make the resources even better. The area is also used for production of wood, for hunting and outdoor activities and therefore offer many smaller roads, tracks and paths to get nearer the perfect places for berries. The distance depends on the berry supplies for the season.

Equipment of your own as walking shoes, water, rucksack and "clothes after weather" is required. The equipment, needed for the theme activities (for ex. buckets) can be rent or borrowed. And don't forget to bring your own "fika".
